Preface

The Religious Education Teaching Module for form 1 has been developed in response to the introduction of the Competence-Based Curriculum (CBC), a transformative initiative aimed at enhancing quality education and relevance.

This teaching module is designed to support teachers to effectively deliver Religious Education lessons under the new curriculum. Its primary objectives are to, bridge the gap created by the absence of approved textbooks and equip teachers with practical skills and assessments tailored to learners' needs and levels.

The Ministry of Education acknowledges the challenges associated with transitioning to a new curriculum. Consequently, this module reflects our commitment to providing teachers with structured guidance, suggested activities, formative and summative assessments aligned with the CBC's objectives.

While this module serves as a foundational resource, we encourage teachers to supplement it with their own research and innovations to address potential gaps during implementation. The suggested activities and assessments are designed to foster practical and critical thinking skills in learners, ensuring relevance and adaptability across diverse school contexts.

Teachers are encouraged to tailor suggestions to their unique classroom dynamics and explore alternative approaches when necessary. We hope this module will empower teachers to navigate the new competence-based curriculum with confidence, inspiring and equipping learners with applied knowledge, skills, and values.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The Religious Education Teaching Module for form 1 is the culmination of a collaborative and inclusive development process. We extend our profound appreciation to individuals, institutions, and organisations that contributed to the module's development, their invaluable input and expertise have enriched the content and quality of this teaching module.

We also acknowledge the dedication and hard work of the staff at the Curriculum Development Centre, whose tireless efforts ensured the successful completion of the teaching module development process.

Thank you all for your contributions.

Introduction

The Religious Education Teaching module aims to provide teachers with the tools, knowledge, and strategies needed to foster a deep understanding and appreciation of religious education among learners.

As teachers, you play an essential role in guiding young minds towards ethical and moral development, while nurturing their spiritual growth and cultural awareness. This module is designed to support you in creating a learning environment that encourages critical thinking, respectful dialogue, and a holistic exploration of religious beliefs and practices.

By engaging with the content and activities within this module, you will be equipped to, develop learners' competencies in understanding and analysing religious concepts, encourage empathy and respect for diverse religious perspectives, facilitate meaningful discussions that promote ethical reasoning and moral decision-making and create inclusive and supportive classroom environments that celebrate diversity and foster a sense of belonging.

TOPIC: 1.3 MORALITY AND VALUE

Introduction

Morals are societal norms that dictate what is considered right and wrong within a community. Values, on the other hand, are guiding principles, standards or behaviour that are regarded as desirable or held in high esteem in society. Morality is a set of rules and beliefs that distinguish good behaviour from bad behaviour. Morality refers to the principles and values that guide our behaviour and decision-making, while values represent our deepest beliefs about what is important and desirable. Morality and values are essential in our daily lives because they shape our identity, guide our decision and impact our relationships.

Let us now embark on this thought provoking journey together, exploring the complexities of morality and values, and how they impact our lives and the world around us.

GENERAL COMPETENCES

Learners should acquire the following competences:

Analytical Thinking	Examine sources of religious and secular moral codes
Critical Thinking	Differentiate sources of religious and secular moral codes
Emotional Intelligence	Apply moral principles in daily living Analyse interpersonal dilemmas
Problem Solving	Analyse moral dilemma

Hook

Imagine stealing medicine in order to save a dying person. Would that be right or wrong?

KEY TERMS

TERM	MEANING
Moral	acceptable standards of behaviour
Morality	is a set of rules and beliefs that distinguish good and bad behaviour
Amoral	behaviour that is unconcerned with acceptable standards of behaviour
Immoral	unacceptable standards of behaviour
Secular	refers to something that is separate from or not connected to religion or spiritual beliefs
Dharma	refers to many things : religion, law, duty, order, proper conduct, morality, righteousness or justice
Karma	refers to the spiritual principle of cause and effect, where an individual's actions, intentions and decisions influence their future experiences and circumstances
Caste	is a social group that you are born into and it determines your position in life
Dilemma	is a situation that requires a choice between two equal alternatives
Value	is a guiding principle, standard or behaviour that is regarded as desirable or held in high esteem in society
M o r a l code	a set of rules that are widely accepted by a group of people to show them what is right and wrong

SUB-TOPIC 1.3.1 MORALITYIntroduction

Morality is a set of rules and beliefs that distinguish good behaviour from bad behaviour. These are principles and values that guide our behaviour and decision-making. Morality helps us distinguish right from wrong, good from bad and just from unjust. Morality is essential because it helps us make choices that respect the rights and dignity of others. By living morally, we contribute to creating a more just, compassionate, and peaceful world.

In this sub-topic, we will look at moral principles and discuss real-life situations that challenge our morals and principles. We will further explore effective strategies for making moral decisions and taking responsible actions.

Specific Competence: 1.3.1.1 Apply moral principles in daily living

Learning environment: Indoor or Outdoor (Natural /Artificial/Technological)

Teaching and Learning Materials

- ☐ Charts, posters and pictures showing different behaviour
- ☐ Projectors (videos on moral issues)
- ☐ Laptop, computer
- ☐ Longman Religious Education Grade 8
- ☐ Competence Based RE Syllabus 2024

LEARNING ACTIVITIES*ACTIVITY 1:*Describing morality*Learning environment

Artificial: indoor activities – group work and classroom discussion

ACTIVITY PROCESS

- ☐ Cluster the learners in small groups to discuss the concept of morality
- ☐ Each group to report key ideas from the discussion to the class
- ☐ Key ideas to be grouped and written down on the board
- ☐ Learners to connect the ideas and come up with the definition of morality
- ☐ Teacher to consolidate the meaning of morality on the board

CONTENT TIPS

- ☐ Morality is a set of rules and beliefs that distinguish good behaviour from bad behaviour.
- ☐ It deals with the way people should behave towards each other, animals and the environment.
- ☐ A system of morality guides acceptable behaviour, for example, in marriage, while rising and disciplining children and in business transactions.

Moral, an Immoral and Amoral Person

- ☐ A moral person does what is right, and has a strong sense of what is right and wrong.
- ☐ An immoral person is one who behaves in a way that is not morally acceptable.
- ☐ An amoral person is unconcerned with behaving in a morally acceptable way.
- ☐ The best known example of a moral principle is “the Golden Rule” or ethic of reciprocity. “Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.”

ACTIVITY 2:Discussing opinions on what is right and wrong*Learning environment*Artificial: Indoor activity

- ☐ Discuss in groups
- ☐ Learners to debate given motion

Technological

Virtual

- ☐ Learners to watch different scenes on morality and debate on a given motion

ACTIVITY PROCESS*Task 1

- ☐ Learners to brain storm opinions on what is right or wrong
- ☐ Teacher to allow as many contributions as possible and write them on the board
- ☐ Class to select meaningful points
- ☐ Teacher to consolidate and summarise meaningful points on the board

Task 2

- ☐ Learners in groups to discuss opinions on what is right or wrong
- ☐ Group to share findings with the class
- ☐ Teacher to write down information from the discussions
- ☐ Learners to role play opinions
- ☐ Teacher to critique work done by the groups

Task 3

- ☐ Teacher to choose a motion for the learners e.g. “Abortion should be legalised in Zambia”
- ☐ Teacher divides learners into smaller groups and assign them roles
- ☐ Learners to be allowed to prepare their arguments
- ☐ As the learners debate, teacher to act as a moderator
- ☐ After debate, teacher to summarise key points raised from the debate on the board

CONTENT TIPS

- ☐ Opinions on what is right and what is wrong vary widely among individuals and cultures. Factors influencing these opinions include: cultural norms, personal experiences, religious or spiritual beliefs that shape an individual's perception of right and wrong.

- ☐ Right is typically associated with actions that are ethical, just, and beneficial to others, while wrong is linked to actions that are unethical, unjust, and harmful.
- ☐ Making the distinction between right and wrong is essential for maintaining a harmonious society and upholding moral values.
- ☐ While what is considered right or wrong can vary depending on cultural norms and personal beliefs, the fundamental principles of morality remain constant across different societies. For example, the opinions on abortion vary widely, with some people believing it is morally wrong and others seeing it as necessary right.
- ☐ For example, eating cows is moral in Zambia but immoral in India. This allegedly shows that any act is right or wrong based on the values of the particular culture in which such an act occurs.
- ☐ However, many different cultures do agree on certain universal moral values. For example, virtually all cultures agree that torturing innocent people for fun is always immoral and that helping others in need is always moral.
- ☐ Ultimately, the choice between right and wrong lies in our hands and it is our responsibility to make ethical decisions that align with our values and principles.

ACTIVITY 3:

Analysing the consequences of moral and immoral actions

Learning environment

Artificial: Indoor activity

- ☐ Learners answer oral questions
- ☐ Learners to role-play different scenarios of consequences
- ☐ Guest speaker

Technology

- ☐ Learners watch videos on consequences of moral and immoral actions

Task 1

- ☐ Learners to watch videos with different scenes of moral and immoral actions
- ☐ Teacher to ask questions based on the video
- ☐ Learners to discuss the questions arising from the video
- ☐ Teacher to consolidate the key points of the discussion on the board

Task 2

- ☐ Teacher to identify and invite a guest speaker (e.g. police officers, judge, guidance teachers ...) to give a talk on the consequences of moral and immoral actions
- ☐ Learners to take note of the main points from the talk
- ☐ Learners to role play the consequences of moral and immoral actions

CONTENT TIPS

- ☐ The consequences of moral and immoral actions can have a profound impact on individuals and society as a whole.

- ☐ Moral actions often lead to positive outcomes such as trust, respect, social harmony, fostering of integrity, accountability, responsibility, development and corporation
- ☐ Immoral actions on the other hand can result in guilt and shame, loss of self-respect, strained relationships, community harm, social insecurity, loss of freedom, mental health, legal consequences such as imprisonment, mistrust and destruction of reputation.

ACTIVITY 4:

Showing ways of applying moral principles in daily living

Learning environment

Artificial

- ☐ Learners to discuss and role play
- ☐ Learners to interact with the Guest speaker

Natural:

- ☐ Learners to research in the community

Technological

- ☐ Learners to research on internet where possible

Task 1

- ☐ Learners to research on ways of applying moral principles in daily living.
- ☐ Learners should be allowed access to the internet where possible.
- ☐ A guest speaker can also make a talk on how to apply moral principle in daily living.
- ☐ Learners to make a presentation of their research.
- ☐ Teacher to write meaningful points on the board

Task 2

- ☐ Cluster the learners in small groups to prepare for the role play
- ☐ Each group to role-play the given scenarios
- ☐ Explain the moral lesson of the scene at the end
- ☐ Class discussion to cement the lesson

CONTENT TIPS

Applying moral principles in daily living involves incorporating ethical values and principles into your thoughts, words and actions. Here are some ways to apply moral principles in daily living:

- ☐ Honesty and Integrity: Practice Honesty: Always tell the truth, even when it's difficult. This builds a reputation for reliability.
- ☐ Volunteering and community service: contribute to the well-being of your community through volunteering and community service
- ☐ Active Listening and Open communication: Make an effort to understand others' perspectives by listening without interruption.

- ☐ Empathy and Compassion: Engage in acts of kindness, like helping a neighbor or volunteering, to cultivate empathy in your community.
- ☐ Respect and Tolerance: treat others with respect, even if you disagree with their views or beliefs
- ☐ Forgiveness and reconciliation: practice forgiveness and work towards reconciliation in conflict
- ☐ Environmental Responsibility: take actions to reduce environmental impact and promote sustainability
- ☐ Accountability and responsibility: take ownership of your actions and its consequences
- ☐ Civic participation: Engage in civic duties, such as voting or participating in community service, to fulfill your role as a responsible citizen.

Expected Standard Moral principles applied in daily living accordingly

Specific Competence: 1.3.1.2 Analyse moral dilemmas

Learning environment: Indoor or Outdoor (Natural /Artificial/Technological)

Teaching and Learning Materials

- ☐ Charts, posters and pictures showing different behaviour
- ☐ Projectors (videos on moral issues)
- ☐ Laptop, computer
- ☐ Longman Religious Education Grade 8
- ☐ Competence Based Religious Education Syllabus 2023

LEARNING ACTIVITIES

ACTIVITY 1:

Describing moral dilemma

Learning Environment

Artificial: indoor activities

- ☐ Learners brain storm the meaning of ‘moral dilemma’
- ☐ Group work and presentations

Task 1

- ☐ Learners to brain storm on the meaning of the phrase ‘moral dilemma’
- ☐ Learners to present the findings in class
- ☐ Teacher to consolidate meaningful points and examples on the board

Task 2

- ☐ Teacher to cluster the learners in small groups and let them discuss the meaning of moral dilemma
- ☐ After the discussions, each group to make a presentation and share key ideas to the class
- ☐ Teacher to write down key responses on the board

CONTENT TIPS

- ☐ Moral dilemma is a situation that requires a choice between two equal alternatives.
- ☐ Therefore, a moral dilemma is a situation where you have to choose between two conflicting moral and behaviour.
- ☐ You cannot choose both behaviour, and inevitably you will fail to keep same aspects of your moral code.

ACTIVITY 2:

Analysing moral dilemmas

Learning Environment

Artificial: Indoor activity

- ☐ Group work on moral dilemma
- Technological
- ☐ Learners to view pictures and watch videos

Task 1

- ☐ Teacher to divide learners into small groups to discuss moral dilemma
- ☐ After discussion, the groups' report findings to the class
- ☐ Teacher to summarise the information on the board

Task 2

- ☐ Teacher to displays images or shows videos with different scenarios of moral dilemma
- ☐ Learners to discuss the scenes in groups and share the findings
- ☐ Teacher to makes a summary of meaningful points on the board

ACTIVITY PROCESS

Moral dilemma can manifest in various ways such as:

- ☐ Conflicting obligations: Choosing between loyalty to a friend and honesty about their wrong doing.
- ☐ Competing values: Deciding whether to report unethical behaviour at work which could harm a colleague or not.

Analysing moral dilemma involves breaking down the situation.

- i. Define the dilemma: clearly define the situation in details, determine the central ethical issue or question at the heart of the dilemma
- ii. Identify stakeholders and interest: identify those affected by the dilemma and understand the needs, desires and concerns of each of them
- iii. Evaluate ethical principles and values: determine which ethical principles or values are relevant to the dilemma and weigh the importance of each value or principle in the context of the dilemma

- iv. Consider alternative course of action: brainstorm potential solutions or course of action and assess the potential consequences, benefits and drawbacks of each option.
- v. Choose a course of action: based on your analysis, choose the course of action that best aligns with your values and principles, explain why you chose this option.
- vi. Reflect and review: consider the potential consequences of your action and be willing to revise your decision if new information becomes available.

ACTIVITY 3:Applying critical thinking in solving moral dilemmas*Learning Environment

Artificial: indoor

- ☐ Learners discuss various situations
- ☐ Learners role play scenarios depicting dilemmas

Natural: Outdoor

- ☐ Learners observe within the school situations that are conflicting
- ☐ Discuss in small groups their findings

ACTIVITY PROCESS*Task 1

- ☐ Teacher to instruct learners to conduct research on how to apply critical thinking in solving moral dilemmas
- ☐ Learners to use available resources in the school to conduct the research
- ☐ Learners to present their findings in class
- ☐ Teacher to consolidate and summarise the findings of the research on the board

Task 2

- ☐ Learners role play different moral dilemmas
- ☐ Class discusses solutions to different moral dilemmas
- ☐ Teachers to make a summary of meaningful points

CONTENT TIPS

Critical thinking involves systematically evaluating moral dilemma by:

- a) Identifying the conflict: clearly define the competing moral principle
- b) Gathering information: collect relevant information, facts and perspectives on the situation
- c) Evaluating consequences: considering the potential outcomes of each option
- d) Making a decision: choose the best action that aligns most closely with core values and ethical principles.

Example

Suppose you're a nurse and discover that a doctor has made a serious medical error that could harm a patient. Do you report the error, potentially damaging the doctor's reputation, or keep quiet to protect the doctor's career?

1. Define the dilemma: Report the error vs. protect the doctor's reputation.
2. Identify stakeholders: Patient, doctor, hospital administration.
3. Evaluate principles: Patient safety, honesty, loyalty to colleagues.
4. Consider options: Report the error, discuss with the doctor, keep quiet.
5. Choose a course of action: Report the error to ensure patient safety.
6. Justify decision: Prioritize patient safety and honesty over loyalty to colleagues

Expected Standard: Moral dilemmas analyzed accordingly

SUB-TOPIC: 1. 3. 2 SOURCES OF MORAL CODE

Introduction

Morals differ among cultures and can be relative. Therefore, a moral code is dependent upon situation and context in which it is upheld. However, some morals seem to be universally true, for instance, it is wrong to murder or torture another person. Many morals originate from religious and secular (non-religious) sources. Examples of sources of religious and non-religious code are families, friends, school, communities, constitution and religion. We learn about morals from our families, friends, school, community, constitution and religion.

In this sub topic, you will discuss the sources of religious moral codes, identify secular sources of moral codes and evaluate religious and secular moral codes.

Specific Competence: 1.3.2.1 Differentiate sources of religious and secular moral codes

Learning environment: Indoor or Outdoor (Natural /Artificial/Technological)

Teaching and Learning Materials

- ☐ Charts, posters and pictures showing different behaviour
- ☐ Projectors (videos on moral issues)
- ☐ Laptop, computer
- ☐ Longman Religious Education Grade 8
- ☐ Competence Based Syllabus 2024

LEARNING ACTIVITIES

ACTIVITY 1:

Identifying religious sources of moral codes

Learning Environment

Artificial: Indoor

- ☐ Learners to discuss the different religious sources of moral codes
- ☐ Learners listen to guest speaker

Task 1

- ☐ Learners to read religious texts from different religious scriptures
- ☐ Learners to present what they have read to the class
- ☐ Teacher to consolidate and summarise the sources of religious moral codes on the board.

Task 2

- ☐ Put learners in small groups and let them discuss sources of moral code
- ☐ Each group to make a presentation on what they have found to the class
- ☐ Teacher to write down key points on the board

Task 3

- ☐ Teacher to invite guest speaker
- ☐ Learners to interact with the guest
- ☐ Learners to take note of the key points raised during the talk
- ☐ Class to discuss the points collected
- ☐ Teacher to wrap up the information from the points

CONTENT TIPS

Religious texts are an important source of moral codes. The moral teachings of the religious texts of Christianity, Islam and Hinduism are:

Christian religious text

- ☐ Christians believe that morals come from God or Jesus his messenger on earth.
- ☐ They are revealed to us through the scriptures of the Bible.
- ☐ The Ten Commandments are a moral code found in the Old Testament according to Exodus 20:1-17. These were revealed to Moses by God.
- ☐ The New Testament contains moral teachings given by Jesus and his followers to the early Christians. Rom. 13:1-7, 8-14.

Hindu religious text

The Hindu religious texts include the Bhagavad Gita, the Vedas and the Upanishads. Each of these contributes to the Hindu understanding of morality.

- ☐ The Bhagavad Gita (the song of the Bhagavan) often commonly called the Gita is a 700 verse poem that is part of an epic known as the Mahabharata. It was written between 400BC and 400CE.
- ☐ The poem tells the story of the Pandava prince, Arjuna, who is in a battle against his father. He turns to his Lord Krishna, who drives his chariot, for help and wisdom.
- ☐ This is a very important poem in Hindu moral life. The battle field is interpreted as a metaphor for the spiritual and moral struggles that people have.
- ☐ It shows how our choices have consequences for ourselves and others.
- ☐ The Bhagavad Gita influenced the thinking of many visionaries in the 20th century including Dr Martin Luther King and Mahatma Gandhi.
- ☐ Gandhi called the Gita “his spiritual dictionary”.

The Vedas

The Vedas (meaning knowledge in Sanskrit) are a collection of many texts which come from ancient India. They are thought to be created by the Hindu god who created the world Brahma.

The Upanishads

These are a collection of writings that teach people how to live a moral life

Hindu morality focuses on the concepts of Dharma and Karma.

i) Dharma can mean many things: religion, law, duty, order, proper conduct, morality, righteousness or justice. For example, in India there are different castes.

- ☐ A Caste is a social group that you are born into and it determines your position in life. There is the priestly caste (Brahmin), the traditionally warrior caste (Kshatriya), the traditionally merchant and farmer caste (Vaishya) and then the manual labourers (Shudra).
- ☐ The moral guidelines are to act in accordance with dharma, which means acting appropriately for your caste.

ii) Karma, on the other hand, has to do with cause and effect. Positive actions cause positive effects while negative action produce negative effects.

- ☐ Hinduism believes in reincarnation, which means that the soul is reborn into another body many times.
- ☐ This karma can be collected over multiple lives, so Karma teaches that you act in a way that is as positive as possible.

Muslim religious texts

i) Quran

- ☐ The Quran is a sacred text of Islam which Muslims believe to be a revelation from God.
- ☐ It was written by Prophet Muhammad, God's messenger on earth who said, "I have been sent to perfect the morals".

ii) Hadith

- ☐ The Hadith is the record of deeds and sayings of the prophet Muhammad.
- ☐ They were collected, evaluated and written down during the 8th and 9th centuries and are still referred to in history and Islamic law.
- ☐ They are also used to interpret the Quran. For example, it is on the authority of Hazrat Anas that the Holy Prophet said, "Respect your children. Teach them good morals."
- ☐ The Quran guides Muslims in all issues of morality. The Five Pillars of Islam guide Muslims' behaviour. They are given in the famous hadith of Gabriel. These are:
 - i. Creed -Declare there is no god except God and Muhammad is God's messenger.
 - ii. Pray five times a day.
 - iii. Fasting- during the month of Ramadan.
 - iv. Alms giving- Give money to the poor (charity)
 - v. Pilgrimage --Travel to Mecca at least once in a lifetime.

Zambia Traditional Religion

- ☐ The elders will teach them how to behave, the cultural traditions through proverbs, songs, stories, myths and folk tales.

ACTIVITY 2:

Identifying non- religious sources of moral codes

Learning Environment

Artificial: Indoor activity

- ☐ Learners to discuss non-religious source

Task 1

- ☐ Teachers to put learners in small groups to discuss non-religious sources
- ☐ Groups to make presentations on key ideas to the class
- ☐ Teacher to write key points on the board

CONTENT TIPS

Non-religious or secular sources of moral codes include:

- a. Families: Families instill values and ethics from a young age.
- b. Friends: peer influence can shape moral perspectives and behaviour.
- c. School: Educational institutions teach principles of fairness, respect and responsibility.
- d. Community: Local culture and traditions form collective moral codes.
- e. Constitution: Legal framework establishes societal norms and ethical standards.

Activity 3: Evaluating religious and secular moral codes

Learning Environment

Artificial: Indoor

- ☐ Learners to discuss and evaluate moral codes

Task 1

- ☐ Teacher to put learners in small groups to discuss the religious and non-religious (secular) moral codes
- ☐ Learners to make a presentation of key ideas to the class
- ☐ Learners to evaluate religious and non-religious moral codes
- ☐ Teacher to make a summary of key points on the board

Task 2

- ☐ Teacher to organise a panel discussion in which learners act as experts on religious and non-religious moral codes
- ☐ Learners to note down key points from the discussion

CONTENT TIPS

- ☐ Religious moral codes are believed to have been given by Supreme Being while secular moral code originates from society.

- ☐ Religious moral codes are conservative while secular moral codes are more dynamic.
- ☐ Both religious and secular moral codes are influential and determine how people behave in society.
- ☐ Both religious and secular moral codes are rooted in long standing traditions and address traditional and contemporary issues.

Expected Standard: Sources of religious and secular moral codes differentiated accordingly

ASSESSMENT

Knowledge-based questions

1. Explain the meaning of morality.
2. Differentiate the following terms: moral, amoral and immoral.

Application-based questions

1. After losing his job, a man from one of the compounds in Lusaka decided to rob a shop in order to make ends meet. He was arrested and sentenced to five years in prison with hard labour. What would you have done in this situation if you were the man instead of robbing a shop?
2. Read the following moral dilemmas and discuss what you would do in each situation.
 - i. You find a bag of money hidden in a bush near your school. It has obviously been stolen from someone, but your family could certainly use the money.
 - ii. One of your good friends has discovered she is pregnant. If she has an abortion, she can carry on with her schooling and study teaching, which shows what she would like to do. However, she comes from a Christian family which believes that abortion is murder.

Critical thinking questions

1. Evaluate religious and non-religious of moral codes.
2. Examine the importance of morality in society.

SUMMARY

- ☐ Morality is a set of rules and beliefs that distinguishes good behaviour and bad behaviour
- ☐ Opinions on what is right and wrong vary widely among individuals and cultures.
- ☐ There are consequences for moral and immoral actions; consequences for moral actions are positive while those for immoral are negative.
- ☐ Application of moral principles in daily life in society is very important because it promotes harmonious living, peace and fosters good mental health.
- ☐ Moral dilemma is a situation that requires a choice between two equal but conflicting alternatives.
- ☐ Solving moral dilemmas requires application of critical thinking (identifying the conflict, gathering relevant information, evaluating consequences and making a decision)
- ☐ There are two main sources of moral codes, religious and secular (non-religious).
- ☐ Both religious and secular moral codes are important and influential in society.

TOPIC: 1.4 CHOOSING AND TALENTSIntroduction

Choosing and talents are like the two sides of a coin as they cannot be separated. They both play important roles in people's lives. Life is full of choices, as a result people make choices throughout their life time. Some of the choices people make are good and others are bad, hence we have to follow all the necessary steps in order to make good choices. Choices can be made from chosen circumstances or circumstances that are beyond one's control. But in both cases, there are consequences one has to bear.

It is important to note that everybody has talents. A talent is a natural ability to do something well. Talents need to be discovered and developed through learning and practicing certain techniques. If well nurtured, talents may be a source of livelihood for a person.

The topic will highlight information on how people make choices using specific steps at three levels which are individual, family and community. The topic will also focus on how a talent should be discovered, developed in order to promote entrepreneurship. The activities in the topic have been designed to promote practical demonstrations with a view that learners will develop competences that will help them in life.

In this topic, there are three sub-topics. These are Choices, Choices in the four religions in Zambia and Talents. From the presentations, teachers are expected to gain understanding and skills in order to present the topic effectively and confidently.

GENERAL COMPETENCES

Analytical Thinking	Analyse central teachings on making choices in the four religions in Zambia.
Citizenship	Explain responsibility for one's choices
Entrepreneurship	Develop talent to promote entrepreneurship
Financial Education	Apply financial literacy in order to develop the talent.

Hook

"Your talents set the stage, but your choices steal the show."

KEY TERMS

TERM	MEANING
Inspire	To awaken something deep e.g. motivation in others
Talent	An ability to do something well
Possession	Owning something
Parable	A short story in which a moral lesson is taught
Entrepreneur	A person who comes up with a good business idea and then starts a business
Financial Literacy	Is the possession of skills, knowledge and behaviors that allow an individual to make informed decisions regarding money
Circumstance	A situation that happens in one's life. It can be chosen or un-chosen

Perseverance	The ability to continue to do something even though there are difficulties
Responsibility	A duty to behave the right way

SUB-TOPIC 1.4.1 MAKING CHOICES

Introduction

People all over the world share universal experiences and one of them is making choices. Life is a series of decisions we make and depending on our choices we must live with the result of that decision. This subtopic therefore, will explore how people make choices whether under chosen or un-chosen circumstances.

Specific Competence: 1.4.1.1 Accept responsibility for one's choice

Learning environment: Indoor or Outdoor (Natural /Artificial/Technological)

Teaching and Learning Materials

- ☐ Old Grade 8 Religious Education text books
- ☐ Models
- ☐ Projector / Laptop / Smart phones
- ☐ Charts/ pictures
- ☐ Competence Based Syllabus Religious Education 2024

LEARNING ACTIVITIES

ACTIVITY 1:

Describing how people make choices (see, judge and act)

Learning Environment

Artificial: in door

- ☐ Class discussion on research findings
- ☐ Role play and discussion on steps in making choices

Natural: Outdoor

- ☐ Learners carrying out a research in the family and community

Task 1

- ☐ Learners to research on how elders in the family and community made choices in the past
- ☐ (Interview questions: Have you ever made any critical choice in life? What guided you in making those choices? Do you think any of those choices were wrong? What lessons did you learn from them?)
- ☐ Learners to report their findings to the class
- ☐ Learners to discuss each other's findings
- ☐ Teacher to summarise the findings on the board including the steps see, judge and act

Task 2

- ☐ Learners to role play a scenario that depicts the steps followed in making choices (e.g. a pupil encouraging friends to smoke or drink alcohol)
- ☐ Learners to discuss the role play
- ☐ Teacher to re-emphasises the steps followed in making choices

CONTENT TIPS

There are three important steps that we need to follow in making good choices.

- ☐ See: we need to use our five senses to identify our options. Look at each option and think about it.
- ☐ Judge: In life, there are some things that are important (for example, passing an exam, playing a game, or starting a friendship). Look at the advantages and disadvantages of each option. Evaluate the options and make the best choice according to interests, beliefs and also time that you have.
- ☐ Act: You take action according to what you saw and judged as the best thing to choose.

ACTIVITY 2:

Differentiating chosen and un-chosen circumstances

Learning Environment

Artificial: indoor

- ☐ Pair work on drawing and presenting tables on chosen and un-chosen circumstances

Task 1

- ☐ Learners in pairs to draw a table in which they indicate chosen and un-chosen circumstances on the left and right, respectively.
- ☐ Pairs to present the finding to the class
- ☐ Learners to compare what other pairs have written and come up with a consolidated list.
- ☐ Teacher summarises the information into chosen and un-chosen circumstances

CONTENT TIPS

- ☐ Chosen circumstances are situations in life that you choose, e.g. the type of clothes you wear, friends you play with, food you eat.
- ☐ Un-chosen circumstances are situations in life that cannot be chosen, they are beyond your control e.g. your gender, parents, nationality.

ACTIVITY 3:

Identifying the different levels of choices

Learning Environment

Artificial: Indoor activity

- ☐ Group work and presentations of findings
- ☐ Discussions on levels and factors that influence choices

Task 1

- ☐ Learners in groups to discuss the different levels at which people make choices
- ☐ Groups to report their findings to the class
- ☐ Teacher to summarise the information on the board

Task 2

- ☐ Learners in groups to identify factors that influence the decision making at any level.
- ☐ Groups to report their findings to the class
- ☐ Teacher to summarise the information on the board

CONTENT TIPS

There are different levels of choices which include the following:

- ☐ Individual level – making a choice for oneself, taking into consideration your needs and what to do in order to achieve them.
- ☐ Family level – decisions made here have more than one person's input because the choice has to take into consideration the family's common goals and what is best for the whole family.
- ☐ Community level – at this level, many people are involved in making the choice; so a lot of people will be part of the decision making process.

There are many factors that influence choices. They include the following: age, gender, past experiences, level of commitment, existing beliefs, status in society, cognitive biases.

ACTIVITY 4:

Role playing acceptance of responsibility of our choices

Learning Environment

Artificial: Indoor

- ☐ Learners discussing meaning of responsibility
- ☐ Learners role play acceptance of responsibility

ACTIVITY PROCESS

Task

- ☐ Learners to discuss in groups the meaning of responsibility
- ☐ Groups report to the class their views
- ☐ Learners to role play various situations that demonstrate acceptance of responsibility of choices, e.g. a girl who falls pregnant and decides not to abort, a boy who gets drunk during school hours and accepts to be punished
- ☐ Teachers to emphasise on the need to accept responsibility of choices made

CONTENT TIPS

- ☐ Responsibility is the duty to behave the right way or to do the right thing.
- ☐ It is important to accept responsibility of our choices whether good or bad.
- ☐ The choices that people make show one's aim in life (the type of friends you have, the way you use your free time, the way you treat people and even the way react when you are criticized)
- ☐ People should be confident and assertive in fulfilling their aims through the choices they make.

Expected Standard: Responsibility for one's choices accepted accordingly

Specific Competence: 1.4.1.2 Evaluate decision making steps

Learning environment: Indoor or Outdoor (Natural /Artificial/Technological)

Teaching and Learning Materials

- ☐ Old Grade 8 Religious Education text books
- ☐ Models
- ☐ Projector / Laptop / Smart phones
- ☐ Charts/ pictures
- ☐ Competence Based Syllabus Religious Education 2024

ACTIVITY 1:

Identifying steps of decision making

Learning Environment

Artificial: indoor

- ☐ In groups, identify and discuss the steps involved in decision making process

ACTIVITY PROCESS

Task

- ☐ Learners in groups identify and explain the steps involved in decision making process
- ☐ Learners present findings to the class
- ☐ Teacher write down the key points of the presentations

CONTENT TIPS

The following are the steps involved in decision making:

- ☐ See - examine the situation, identify the main problem
- ☐ Judge - decide what it is that you want to achieve, discuss what the most important area is, look at different options, decide what to do, decide how to do it
- ☐ Act- put the decision and plan into action

ACTIVITY 2:

Evaluating decision making in real life

Learning Environment

Artificial: indoor

- ☐ Group work and presentations on given situations
- ☐ Teacher assessment of group reports and giving feedback to the class

ACTIVITY PROCESS

Task

- ☐ Learners to evaluate a given situation where steps for decision making are followed in arriving at the final decision and action
- ☐ Groups to present their findings inform of reports to the teacher
- ☐ Teacher assesses the report and discusses them with the learners
- ☐ Teacher to emphasise the importance of each step in decision making in life

CONTENT TIPS

The steps needed in decision making include the following:

- ☐ Examine the situation
- ☐ Decide what it is that you want to achieve
- ☐ Identify the main problem
- ☐ Discuss what the most important area is
- ☐ Look at different options
- ☐ Decide what to do
- ☐ Decide how to do it
- ☐ Put the plan into action

All the steps are necessarily and important in arriving at a good decision and action in real, everyday life. Failure to follow these steps may lead to bad decisions that will affect individual, family and community life negatively.

Expected Standard: Decision making evaluated accordingly

SUB-TOPIC:1.4.2. CENTRAL TEACHINGS ON MAKING CHOICES IN FOUR RELIGIONS IN ZAMBIA

Introduction

The teachings of a religion guide its followers in their daily choices. These teachings are important because they inspire people to look at their current life and the future with hope. People are expected to align or position their choices in line with the teachings of their religion. Therefore, people's religious beliefs and values greatly influence their choices.

In this sub-topic, we will look at what the four main religions in Zambia teach their followers to remember when making choices.

Specific Competence: 1.4.2.1 Analyse central teachings on making choices in the four religions

Learning environment: Indoor or Outdoor (Natural /Artificial/Technological)

Teaching and Learning Materials

- ☐ Old Religious Education text books
- ☐ Bible, Qur'an, Bhagavad Gita
- ☐ Charts

LEARNING ACTIVITIES

ACTIVITY1:

Identifying central teachings of the four religions in Zambia on making choices Learning Environment

Artificial: Indoor

- ☐ Group work and presentations on identified teachings

Natural: Outdoor

- ☐ Learners carry out library research or field research at Church, Hindu hall, Mosque and community

Task 1

- ☐ Learners in groups to identify the central teachings of the four religions in Zambia on making choice
- ☐ Groups to present and justify their findings to the whole class
- ☐ Teacher to write the summary on the board

Task 2

- ☐ Learners to do library research or outdoor research at a Church, Hindu hall, Mosque and traditional leader on religious teachings on making choices
- ☐ Learners to present their findings to the whole class
- ☐ Teachers to summarise the information on the board

CONTENT TIPS

The central teachings of the four main religions for followers to remember when making choices are as follows:

Christianity

Christianity teaches that follower must love God and neighbour (Mark 12:30-31). 'Neighbour' means your fellow man. Loving God means putting Him first in your life. This means that a Christian must use his or her time, money and other available resources in a way that pleases God.

Hinduism

The main aim of a Hindu is to be free from all selfishness. This is because Hindus believe that sin and suffering come about from people's evil desires. The Bhagavad Gita says: 'The person who gives up all desires without thinking 'mine' or 'I' is the one who gains peace.'

Islam

The main aim of a Muslim is to show complete obedience to Allah and to live at peace with every Muslim in the world. Muslims show complete obedience to Allah by following the Five Pillars of Islam (declare there is no god except God, and Muhammad is God's messenger, pray five times in a day, fast during the month of Ramadan, give money to the poor or charity and travel to Mecca at least once in a life time – pilgrimage). By supporting each other in life, Muslims show that they are united and are at peace with other Muslims.

Zambia Traditional Religion

The main aim in the life of a follower of Zambian Traditional Religion is to show respect to fellow human beings and to be at peace with the spirits of the dead. Traditionalists are expected to show love to all people. In order to be at peace with the spirits of the ancestors, followers are expected to: give dead community members a decent burial, name children after their dead relatives, look after surviving members of their extended families, especially orphans, the aged and those who are differently able bodied and give gifts and offerings to the spirits of the dead.

ACTIVITY 2:

Evaluating central teachings of the four religions in Zambia on making choices

Learning Environment

Artificial: indoor

- ☐ Group work and presentations

ACTIVITY PROCESS

Task

- ☐ Learners in groups to analyse the central teaching by the four religions on making choices
- ☐ Groups to present what they have come up with
- ☐ Teacher to summarise the information and guide the learners on the relationship between central teachings and making choices

CONTENT TIPS

Christianity

- ☐ The central teaching of Christianity is to love God and your neighbor.
- ☐ This means all the choices a Christian makes should be in line with this teaching.
- ☐ Making choices in line with this teaching helps a Christian to be at peace with God and man to make progress in his or her life.

Zambia Traditional Religion

- ☐ The main aim of a Zambian Traditionalist is to be at peace with the spirits of the ancestors and show respect to fellow human beings.
- ☐ Therefore, a traditionalist should make his or her choices in line with this teaching.
- ☐ Doing so helps him or her to live a harmonious life with other members of society and remain faithful to his or her culture and traditions.

Hinduism

- ☐ The main aim of a Hindu is to be free from all selfishness.
- ☐ This is because Hindus believe that sin and suffering come about from people's evil desires.
- ☐ So Hindus should make choices according to this teaching.
- ☐ Making choices in line with this teaching helps a Hindu to be at peace with Brahman and man to make progress in his or her life

Islam

- ☐ The main aim of a Muslim is to show complete obedience to Allah and to live at peace with every Muslim in the world.
- ☐ So a Muslim should make his or her choices according to this teaching.
- ☐ Doing so helps him or her to succeed in their life.

Expected Standard: Central teachings on making choices on the four religions analysed accordingly

SUB-TOPIC: 1.4.3 TALENTSIntroduction

We all have different talents and abilities, some of which we are born with while others are acquired through practice and experience. No matter what our talent is, it is important to develop it and use it to the best of our abilities. A talent is the natural ability to do something well. Everybody is good at something, but that something or talent needs to be discovered. For example, one person may have a talent for long distance running while another may have a talent for Mathematics. People have to try out many things in order to discover their special talents

In this sub-topic, we will discuss talents and how they can be discovered, developed and used to earn a living.

Specific Competence: 1.4.3.1 Use talent as a source of earning a living

ASSESSMENT

Knowledge-based questions

1. Explain the three steps that people need to take in order to make a good choice.
2. From what we have learnt on “Choosing and Talents”, distinguish between talent and gift.

Application-based questions

1. Mr Lika graduated as a Religious Education teacher and was posted to Pimpe Secondary School. While at the college, Mr Lika belonged to the entertainment committee and at times, he would play comedy. When he joined the school, his local community identified his talent of entertaining people especially during weddings. As a result, during weekends, he would be hired to be Master of Ceremonies. Mr Lika became well known in the local community and he would make good money for every performance that he did.

What advice would you give Mr Lika concerning his talent as an entertainer?

Critical thinking questions

1. Explain why it is important to take acceptance of responsibility of one's choices in life.
2. Explain in your own words, how a talent can promote entrepreneurship in one's life
